

CLOSE THE GAP

Aboriginal sisters, Alicia and Sophia Engelhardt, support indigenous health equality

National Close the Gap Day has deepened Australia's understanding this and support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health equality. Respect for identity and culture are important to achieving this Indigenous health and wellbeing.

Our culture — Our health. But only together we can Close the Gap. Find out more and register an activity of your choice in support of Indigenous health equality.

Join National Close the Gap Day, Thursday 19 March 2015.
